GREATEST WEEK IN HISTORY OF SPORT

This will be the greatest week in hual Horse Show at Madison Square the history of sport. Never before Garden, the drive will be prosecuted have all branches of sport's big family been as active at one time. The schedule of events to be held is further proof of how sport in all its many forms will answer the call to the colors Princeton and the Camp Upton elevens in time of need. will be held and contributions will help the make up the "purse." week August Herrmann, cha'rman of the national commission, sent a check for $15,000 to the fund.

for $16.000 to the fund.

No one can accuse sport of having any slackers, even among its most distant cousins. They all have rolled up their sleeves to help raise enough to provide Uncle Sam's soldiers and sallors with badly needed athleti: equipment and entertainment here and over there. Even though the war is ended there will be need of this equipment and entertainment. In fact, now that the fighting has ceased, the soldiers and sallors will have to be provided with more ecreation than they have had, for the long stretches in the trenches are over, and there is nothing more monotonous and irksome than nore monotonous and irksome than nactive camp life. For this reason this drive must be put across regardless of what has transpired on the other side. There can be no half way business about it. It must go over, and must go over big. And it will if all the sporting enthusiasts in this country, whatever their favorite form of recreation may be, do their share once more as they have so often since the United States entered the world war. One hundred and seventy million dollars is a lot of money, but it not saking too much when it but it is not asking too much when it is to be used for such a worthy cause. It is but natural that the lion's share must be done by New York city. This is the center. There are more fans there than anywhere else. It is the sportive as well as the business pulse of the country, so to speak. And New York is ready to set the fastest pace forms will answer the call to the colors in time of need. If the drive to raise $\frac{110}{500,000}$ for the united war work campaign fund fails to go over the top it will not be because sport failed to do its bit.

In all parts of the country elaborate preparations have been made for footbalk track, trapshooting, bowling, basketbalk golf, tennis, boxing, wrestling, skating, socker and swimming events. The only sport that will not be actively represented is basebalk and that is because it is out of season. But basebalk has not failed to help. The players, umpires and clubs that participated in the world series have already contributed to the fund. Last

New York, Nov. 12.—The calm. mat-ter-of-fact manner in which today's stock market regulated its affairs from war to peace was doubtless a surprise to many who expected that surprise to many who expected that the first post-bellum session of the exchange would of necessity be attended by sensational incidents. With the exception of United States Steel and a few other popular industrials of the pronounced war type, prices were one to three points higher at the opening, ralls, shippings, oils and motors guiding the movement.

Before the end of the first hour most advances were materially re-duced and by midday virtually at gains were changed to actual losses of two to five points, pressure centering in munitions and allied equipments. In munitions and allied equipments.

The last half of the session was characterized by a moderate revival of the first hour's activity and more insistent liquidation, in which the entire list participated. Washington's reminder that some of the hardest problems of the war await solution gave momentum to the later decline.

U. S. Steel was the outstanding feature, selling down to 39 1-4 and closters. ture, selling down to 99 1-4 and closing almost at its lowest, with a net loss of 2 3-8. Independent Steels reacted one to three points, Baldwin Locomotive alone displaying strength.

Oils went through their usual gyrations, Mexican Petroleum making an extreme reversal of 11 1-2 points from its early gain of three points. Motors

PRESIDENT'S COMMENT TO

CONGRESS ON ARMISTICE Washington, D. C., November12.— At the conclusion of the reading of the armistice terms to congress or Monday, President Wilsen said: "The war thus comes to an end; for, having accepted these terms of armistice, it will be impossible for the German command to renew it.

"It is not now possible to assess the consequence; of this great consummation. We know only that this transmatter. We know only that this trag-leal war, whose consuming lames swept from one nation to another un-til all the world was on fire, is at an end and that it was the privilege of our own people to enter it at its most critical juncture in such fashion and in such force as to contribute in a way of which we are all deeply proud to the great result. We know, too, that the object of the war is attained; the object upon which all free men had set their hearts; and attained with a sweeping completeness which even sweeping completeness which even now we do not realize. Armed imper-ialism, such as the men conceived who were but yesterday the masters of Germany, is at an end, its illicit ambitions engulfed in black disaster. Who will now seek to revive it? The orbitrary power of the military casts of Germany, which once could secretize and of its own "half choice disagrees." rb the peace of the world, is dis redited and destroyed. And mor than that much more than that his been accomplished. The great nation which associated themselves to destroy it have now definitely united in the common purpose to set up such a peace as will satisfy the longing of the whole world for disinterested jus-lice, embodied in settlements which are based upon something much beter and much more lasting than the selfish competitive interests of nower ful states. There is a large contect ure as to the objects the victors have in mind, the objects the victors have in mind, the control of in the matter, not only but a he re also. Their avoired and concertly purpose is to satisfy and protect the weak as well as to accord their just rights to the strong. "The humane temper and intention of the victorious governments has al-ready been manifested in a very prun-tical way. Their representatives in the supreme war council at Versailles have by unanimous resolution assured peoples of the central empire that everything that is possible in the ricumstances will be done to supply them with food and relieve the disressing want that is in so laces threatening their very and steps are to be taken immediately to organize these efforts at relief in the same systematic manner that the were organized in the case of Belgium. By the use of the idle toninge of the central empires it ought presently to be possible to lift the fear of utler misery from their oppressed populations and set their minds and energies free for the great and harmedee. free for the great and hazardous tasks of political reconstruction which now face them on every hand. Hunger loes not breed reform, it breeds med-ness, and all the usly distempers that make an ordered life impossible. "For with the fall of the ancient governments, which rested like an in-cubus upon the peoples of the central empires, has come notifical changes, not merely, but revolution; and revohution, which seems as yet to assume no final and ordered form but to run from one fluid change to another until thoughtful men are forced to ask themselves. With what governments, and of what sort are we about to deal in the making of the covenants of peace? With what authority will they meet us and with what assurance that their authority will abide and sustain their authority will abide and sustain securely the international arrange-ments into which we are about to enter. There is here matter for no small auxiety and misgiving. When peace is made, upon whose promises and enragements besides our own is it to

"Let us be perfectly frank with ourselves and admit that these questions cannot be satisfactorily answered now among the nations, remove all fear of or at once. But the moral is not that their neighbors and of their former that will suffice. It is only that we must be patient and helpful and mindful above all of the great hope and confidence that lie at the heart of their capacity. There are some happened to the station of the station that will suffice. It is only that we must be patient and helpful and mindful above all of the great hope and confidence that lie at the heart of what is taking place. Excesses accomplish nothing. Unhappy Russin that they know and will choose the way of self-control and has furnished abundant recent proof of that. Disorder immediately defeats itself. If excess should occur, if disorder should for a time raise its head, a sober second thought will follow and sympathy the awakening and recovery aday of constructive action, if we have vill assuredly come at last." a day of constructive action, if we belp and do not hinder. "The present and all that it holds the present and all that it folds telongs to the nations and the peoples who preserve their self-control and the orderly processes of their govern-ments: the future to those who prove themselves the true friends of man-kind. To conquer with arms is to make only a temporary conquest; to conquer the world by earning its es-teem is to make permanent conquest. I am confident that the nations that have learned the discipline of freedom and that have settled with self posses-sion to its ordered practice are now

"The peoples who have just come out from under the yoke of arbitrary government and who are now coming at last into their freedom, will never find the treasures of liberty they are in search of if they look for them by the light of the torch. They will find that every pathway that 13 stained with the blood of their own brothers leads to the wilderness, not to the seat of their hope.
